

Bishop Burke etc. (from page 1) and formed the Doctors and Fathers of a later age. He infused contempt for the world and a thirst for a close union with God, and established the perfection of religious communities. When countries have wanted apostles to convert them. He has fitted them and sent them out. When men of zeal have been required for correcting the abuses and sinfulness of countries professing to be christian. He has formed the manly and vigorous confessors who have devoted themselves to the work of protecting the sanctity of the church. Each of these has done his work in behalf of religion and the cause of God because of the indwelling of this same Holy Spirit.

And as each one of us has a work to do in illustrating the church's holiness in our own life, we must depend as others have ever done, upon the communication of the Holy Ghost; and upon the grace and help which He affords us by the very many means through which He comes down upon us in answer to prayer—through the Sacraments especially. His Holy Sacrament of Confirmation and through the performance of good works. He strengthens His hold upon us, increases His influence and moves us steadily forward in the way of our sanctification. After Confirmation the Bishop brought the impressive exercises to a close with solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament assisted by Father Sullivan of Hannibal and Father Fox of Swinkey.

On Monday morning the Bishop accompanied by the Very Rev. Dean Ryan and Father Fox took the train for New Cambria to dedicate a new church, and from there he went to Wien to give Confirmation, and expects to visit Hamden, Lingo and other parishes for the same purpose, before returning to St. Joseph Saturday evening.

On Tuesday morning the Very Rev. Dean Ryan left for St. Louis whence he expects to go to Webster to assist at the dedication of the chapel in the recently erected Academy at that place.

J. F. George and family, L. J. Steve and wife returned Saturday from a three weeks auto trip in Colorado. They visited the principal points of interest in that state and had a most delightful trip. They had practically no mishaps until they discovered, when they went to unload their baggage, that a grip was lost. It contained besides clothing a number of keepsakes and souvenirs and the loss rather spoiled what had been a perfect trip. The grip was found later at Clarence.

"WILSON MOVED CAPITOL BACK FROM WALL STREET"

"Thank God He Is a 100 Per Cent Man," Declares Leader of Women's Movement.

In contrast to the Hughes junket of Wall Street's womenfolk, comes this endorsement of President Wilson from a woman who has achieved great things, and is a leader of the real feminist movement.

By Helen Ring Robinson
(State Senator of Colorado.)

I am not with the Woman's Party. My opposition to its propaganda is based on the fact that I am working twelve months in the year, to get the ballot for all American women. My experience of practical politics has taught me, among other things, that the Congressional Union is being used, at the present time, as a tool by the forces in this country which have fought, and will continue to fight, equal suffrage.

I am for Wilson because, throughout his Administration, he has continuously made his appeal from the jangling of dollars to the rights of man.

I am for Wilson because he moved the Capitol of the country from Wall Street back to Washington, and because he has withstood the forces, now back of Hughes, who have sought to remove it to Berlin.

I am for Wilson because he has indeed shown himself more interested in the fortune of oppressed men and pitiful women and children—whether in Mexico or in America—than in his own personal fortune. Thank God he is not "a hundred per cent candidate," but a hundred per cent MAN!

I am for Wilson because, whatever his fortune at the coming election, his achievements have given him a supreme place in the history of American and racial hatreds, and the shattering scramble for dividends.

However the coming election may turn, the pages of American history which President Wilson has written these past four years will be forever illumined with the white light of stars, and our children and grandchildren will indeed have cause to thank God for Woodrow Wilson.

The Republicans don't like the prevailing prosperity. It's Democratic and therefore taboo. Give them a chance and they'll put it out of business.

Mark Twain Was Well Paid

We are learning, out of the articles written for the young readers of St. Nicholas by Mark Twain's friend and biographer and literary executor, Albert Bigelow Paine, a good deal more than ever came out before of the financial and business successes of the great American humorist. His methodical endeavor to pay off the debt he brought upon his publishing house made him the best paid author in America, perhaps in the world. His final arrangement with his regular publishers, Harper Brothers was that they should print whatever he wrote, the payment being twenty (later thirty) cents a word.

But he had been offered before that a dollar a word for his writings and declined it. He also declined an offer for ten lectures at $1,000 a night. He also declined an offer of $10,000 a year to lend his name as editor without doing the editing of a funny paper; again he declined $10,000 offered him to say that a certain tobacco, which he liked well enough, was the best ever and he refused many offers of money that did not agree with his literary conscience.—Boston Transcript.

A Kind Word for the Teacher

The job of a teacher is no easy one.

This is a fact that we too often overlook when we discuss the subject of the education of our children.

We apply the verbal birch to the teachers of our kiddies and overwhelm them with hard criticisms of their ability and methods.

But to have charge of the education of the rising generation is no sinecure.

It demands a degree of patience and tact and enthusiasm that perhaps no other vocation calls for.

And it is, well that we go easy with our criticisms and defer our condemnation.

Teaching school is not merely hearing recitations and marking papers. It is a problem in executive management and ingenuity to control and develop the ego of say a class of thirty individuals, each with some idiosyncrasy and every one with his own determined and contrary will.

No wonder our teachers welcome vacation as eagerly as the pupil.

The relief after being keyed up for many long months is great. Of course there are the fluff-haired girl teachers who merely engage in the desultory teaching of the three R's until Mr. Right comes along, whom they marry with a percession that is wonderful.

But the vast majority of teachers are faithful, persistent workers with their hearts in their work and who love their profession.

These are the teachers who are the salvation of our educational system; they incite the pupils to aim high and instill into them that divine discontent that means success.

They are the exacting teachers, and therefore the least loved. But they are the ones to whom the parents look up with respect.

But theirs is a hard row to hoe and they need plenty of diversion, outdoor and social life to save themselves from the irritation and morbid fretting that is incidental to their difficulties.

It might be a good idea for parents possessing the means to help the jaded teacher to have a good vacation.—Buffalo News.
